

CAREN ROSE

I was born in West Hartford, Connecticut and grew up in a lakeside community in a rural town of Bolton. Our family moved to Florida for the sunshine and landed in Tampa where I finished high school and went to college at the University of South Florida. I moved to Hollywood in 1989 and have enjoyed the beauty of a smaller community in south Florida.

I have worked at Memorial Hospital as a speech/language pathologist in rehabilitation working with brain injury, voice and swallowing patients for about 20 years.

Raising my family with my two daughters have been very rewarding to see them grow up in Hollywood and enjoy the community. They are grown up and reside in the local area.

My contact with the community has always been with helping others in need. I enjoy the simple things in life such as hiking, camping and being outdoors. Together with my husband Jeff, we have been involved in many events for charity as giving back to the community is important to us. We strive for improving a greater awareness, that by participating in local civic meetings there is a connection to the community and we enjoy being an integral part of it.
